ADMINISTRATION

Clinton P. Russell

THE passing of our friend, Mr. Clinton P. Russell, was felt more poignantly by North Dallas than by any other school in the city, as he was vitally connected with the very founding of our school.

For ten years Mr. Russell was president of the Board of Education, and it was he who conceived the idea of North Dallas High School. Before our school was constructed he took many trips at his own expense to various cities in the United States seeking plans for a high school building for Dallas.

Almost everyone who has seen our school remarks on its beautiful front. The imposing archway is of Mr. Russell's own design. He personally supervised the construction of our school. Every day for two years he visited the scene of building, looking after the minute details.

Not only did he consider the material conveniences of our education, but he also considered our esthetic needs. Mr. Russell selected the shrubbery and planned its arrangement on the school grounds. He was a world traveler, and he shared with the pupils the cultural benefits of these trips. Not infrequently he stopped his work to come to North Dallas to lecture for some class or at assembly and to illustrate with pictures, curios, and souvenirs collected on his tours.

Mr. Russell gave his entire life to service. North Dallas High School will always stand as a monument to his untiring efforts and unselfish service.

North Dallas Parent-Teachers' Association

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATIONS are a recognized factor in child welfare work. Such organizations bring about a closer relationship between parents and teachers, resulting in a better understanding of the students by both.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the North Dallas High School is one of the largest in the city. Our president, Mrs. Bowen Cox, is a most capable woman. Service for others with no thought of self is her motto, and under her efficient guidance and with the hearty co-operation of every member of the club, much good has been accomplished this year.

Splendid instructive programs have been given once each month. One of the outstanding accomplishments of the organization this year has been the awarding of a $150 scholarship to a graduate of the January class, assisting this student in obtaining a higher education. Along with this work we have a students' aid fund. This fund is for the purpose of enabling worthy pupils to continue their studies.

As far as possible we have supplied books for the library and secured the loan of a few of the best pictures from the Dallas Art Association. We assist in every way possible in the fostering of suitable entertainment for the students, and quite a few interesting programs have been given.

Service is our watch word,
Child welfare our aim;
Better living conditions
The success that we claim.

—Mrs. R. L. Hardy,
Secretary.

To the Students of
North Dallas High School:

While strolling last summer in one of our northern cities, I ran across a building that had a large bulletin board in the yard, and in letters large enough to be seen a hundred feet away was this sentence: "There is a man within you greater than the man you are."

It had a peculiarly gripping effect on me, and I meditated on it long afterwards. The longer one thinks about it the more startling it becomes. I determined to bring it home to my students, and at the first opportunity to let them have it.

A great thought is undying. It goes on and on, and its influence is unlimited. My young friends, take this with you. While it says "man," this is in a general sense, and is equally applicable to the co-eds. If the full realization of what this sentence means finally bursts upon you, it will make you a better man or woman, and this is my hope and prayer.

Faithfully yours,

N. R. Crozier,
Superintendent of Schools.

To the Students of
North Dallas High School:

It is a source of satisfaction to the principal of this school to know of the loyal and efficient work that has been done this year by the teachers and students who have had charge of our school publications. We have been proud of the school news and the way it has been presented in our local papers; of the Norther as a masterpiece of school literary effort, and of our Annuals that have been artistic and attractive in every way. The work that is done by pupils along this line develops, trains, and educates them just as class work does. There seems to be, however, the play element which enters into the student activity work that gives an incentive not found in the regular class room work. This feeling that doing worthy things is merely play and that it is a pleasure to be able to work is a feeling we hope our boys and girls will have. To love one's work although it may be hard and tedious is most desirable and we must remember with the poet:

"Pleasures lie thickest where no pleasures seem:
There's not a leaf that falls upon the ground
But holds some joy of silence or of sound,
Some sprite begotten of a summer dream."

—Blanchard.

The Faculty Follies

ON the afternoon of January 14 a brilliant array of talent gathered for the purpose of presenting a program for the benefit of the Wilson Memorial Fund.

The star of the performance was the dignified and esteemed mathematics teacher at North Dallas, Miss Elizabeth Dice. Miss Dice portrayed the role of Cleopatra very excellently. Misses Agnew, Ferguson, and Gray and Mrs. Clopton were handmaids to the queen. Oriental atmosphere and color was lent by these Eastern attendants.

Wearing hats belonging to each period in American history Misses Meriwether, Brown, Davis and Mesdames Irish and Whitely entered while an appropriate song was being sung by Miss Nell Lawler.

Mr. C. W. Hill showed remarkable cleverness as a blackfaced comedian.

Messrs. Scarborough and Oehler were riots in their unusual act.

An outstanding number on the bill was the musical marvels. Misses Rawlins and Carrington proved their ability to play an unlimited number of instruments.

Mrs. Annabel Tyson and Miss Dorothy White captivated the audience with their graceful and beautiful Spanish Dance.

So popular did the vaudeville prove that at the close of it batteries of cameras were focused on the aspiring actors and actresses.

ROBT. KELLEY. '26

The Class of June 1926

BEYOND seas, beyond continents lies the land of the Midnight Sun, a realm of peaceful serenity, a region where the obscurest night is brightened with the hopeful gleam of the great light-giving planet.

Here the harsh activity, the busy hum of life, the glaring reality of the business of living are veiled over with the soft dimness that prevails throughout the region. Here the colorful conflict of man against man, the grimness of the feud between right and might, and the clash between fact and fancy find subdued tones under the soft glowing radiance permeating this haven of seclusion. A dreamy ethereal calm pervades the retreat with soothing sway. Here life is beautiful and here life's chief influence is the Majestic stream of light flooding the land of the Midnight Sun.

Despite, however, its Majestic repose the region breathes and swells with the full, poignant force of semi-darkness and its deep underlying potentialities, creating an atmosphere of anticipation. That the unreal twilight will brighten and that the soft film will be withdrawn from the sun's rays is promised by the ominous calm of the great North. The lurid darkness has the spirit and significance of the dawn; and just as the dawn unfolds to the day's bright glamour so does the Midnight Sun gradually cast off from it the mantle of dusk and take on the new vigor of brightly celestial light.

In like manner, we the seniors of a school symbolized by the heroic Northland dwell in our scholastic Land of the Midnight Sun where the light of life now has the veiled cast of the scholarly atmosphere. Here we feel little of the distant tumult going on in the bigger world beyond us where success finds a glowing crown while failure meets with glaring exposure. There the sun of life is bereft of its dark medium. There its rays are dazzling, glaring and harsh. We know that so far we have been shaded and protected, that the harshness of life has been presented to us in subdued impressions.

And yet we feel that eager anticipation, the awakening of the dormant force within us that bids us embark in the Viking ship and sail away from the soft dusk of the homeland to the land of unveiled reality and to meet the tests which brand us openly as victors and vanquished—where all sail under the sun of experience, far brighter and far more glorious than the refined Midnight Sun of learning.

We hold sacred our little Land of the Midnight Sun. It has furnished the idealistic atmosphere preparatory to our voyage into the breadth of the world. It has breathed to us of the quiet joys of life. It has engraved an impression of truth and beauty not effaceable. It has bound our associations by a common tie. We are and always shall be of the Land of the Midnight Sun; and as that sun shines in the physical darkness so do we hope to impart a gleam into the darkness of mankind's being.

The Senior Class of January 1927

WITH high hopes and ambitions to form a worthy link in the chain of traditions of North Dallas High we have become seniors at last!

Seniors! What a wonderful word it is! What a wealth of beautiful memories of our busiest, happiest high school year this word brings!

When the sands in the hour-glass of time have, grain by grain, marked the passing of the years and the unknown future becomes the bright and sunny past, will not the happy memories of our years at North Dallas stir our youthful ambitions and prove an inspiration to go on to bigger and better accomplishments?

We have learned many lessons in our high school life other than those in books. First, we learned the lesson of humility. How terrible were the taunts of "Fish, Fish!" Then we began to breathe more freely and to show intelligence and individuality. These two virtues were carefully developed by the faculty, for they realized that these are important requisites in making seniors competent leaders and faithful students.

Now at the close of our senior year we of the class of '27 look back with pride over our four years of trials, joys, and honor. Once more we face the stern teacher, experience, and prepare to learn again the little lesson of humility till we shall rise at last to the supreme heights of glory to which each one aspires.

We turn with thanks to the faculty who had a hand in guiding our destinies, and we gaze toward a future with the same hopes and fears with which we approached high school life.

We seniors are losing now our old position of kings and queens of the school. We are gaining a better and more lasting place—that of being the leaders in the world of affairs. No more can we lead merely because we are high school seniors. We must prove our ability. We sincerely purpose

"To go as we were taught to go,
Clear-eyed and unafraid;
To see as we were taught to see,
The truth that man has made;
To do as we were taught to do,
Though life may give us scars;
"To build as we were taught to build,
A pathway to the stars!"

But oh, she dances such a way
No sun upon a summer day
Is half so fine a sight.

MARION TOOLE

Entered from Fannin School. Minstrel; Philosophian; Camp Dallas, '24.

A handsome specimen of manhood.

BIRDIE PEARL LOFTIS

The Palette and Pen Club

THE PALETTE AND PEN CLUB has had a very successful year under the supervision of its new sponsor, Miss Marion Wann. The members meet every two weeks in the art room to enjoy interesting programs. This year the club has studied a great number of the painters of modern and of old times. One day a very interesting address was given the members of the department by Mrs. Ursula Lauderdale, who is among our foremost Dallas artists and a teacher at the College of Fine Arts. She told us about the other artists of our city and of their works, which were on display in many of our down-town stores.

In January several of the members were fortunate enough to view the exhibit held at Stoneleigh Court. The pictures in the collection represented the development of American art.

The club has enjoyed a number of social events during the two semesters.

The membership will be enlarged during the second term.

HIGH ideals, good fellowship, and sportsmanship are the foundations around which the Hi-Y clubs of the city are built. High ideals figure in their efforts to better the actions and thoughts of the members; good fellowship is easily recognized at the friendly weekly meetings at the Y. M. C. A.; every act performed by the clubs accentuates their sportsmanship.

The North Dallas Hi-Y club is a representative body of this international organization. Organized with the birth of the school, it has been the goal toward which hundreds of boys have toiled. Membership in the club is held in high esteem by the ones who are fortunate enough to be admitted. The membership is limited to twenty-five, and any vacancy in the roll is immediately filled from the long waiting list.

Meetings are held every Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. building, with Mr. H. G. Spruce presiding over the joint session of all the clubs before the adjournment to the individual clubrooms. Mr. Spruce is in charge of the Hi-Y work in Dallas, and has many friends among the boys who attend the meetings. After a light luncheon, the joint meeting breaks up, and the various clubs repair to their rooms for the program.

During the year, the North Dallas club has had some excellent programs. The inspirational talks given each Monday by different members have proved to be highly beneficial to all of the boys.

The annual football banquet and the annual father and son banquet were held during the fall term. Each was a huge success and drew a record attendance. The football banquet was featured by an inspiring show of pep and enthusiasm, especially by the schools who had winning teams.

Mr. E. D. Walker of North Dallas High School is the sponsor of the Hi-Y club. He has been responsible for much of the success of the N. D. club and the members would feel lost without his seriousness and his ready wit.

THE GIRL RESERVE CLUB of North Dallas is an organization similar in aim to the Hi-Y and to the Students' Councils, keeping ever its purpose, "To further the cause of Christ in everyday living."

World Fellowship, Social Service Work, and Friendly Association are aims which are being stressed this year. The annual spring Conference is to be held at Palacious, Texas, and the North Dallas chapter is planning to send two or three representatives. Girl Reserves have all the privileges of the Y. W. C. A. building, and monthly all-city club suppers are held there.

The Delphian Literary Society was organized in October 1924 with Miss Lucille B. Brown as sponsor. From the beginning the club has enjoyed an unusual success due to the policy of strict observance of form and order and the accepting of no excuses for non-appearance on programs or absence from meetings. Training in club life has been furnished by definite committee work and the parliamentary procedure which is used in the meetings. The programs for the entire term are planned in advance and include declamations, readings, debates, musical numbers, current events, and a parliamentary law drill at each meeting.

In the spring of 1925 the Delphian Literary Society had the honor of presenting the artist, Miss Irene Bewley of Boston, in the pleasing play, "Apple Sauce." During this year the Delphians gave four spreads to which they invited the boys of the Philosophian Club, and one spread was given in conjunction with the Perigon Club. They also participated in the All Klub Karnival of that year.

This year has developed a better organized club with an increased membership. There are now forty active members on the roll. A number of spreads have been enjoyed, one public debate held, and plans are being made to present an assembly program in the near future.

The Norther

OUR NORTHER came into being during the fall term of 1922. Previous to the first issue, a vote was held by the student body to select an appropriate name for the publication that was to record their joys and sorrows. Many connotative titles were turned in, and from this group the suggestive name, "The Norther," was selected. Finley Eastland, possessing unusual editorial initiative, in the first issues set a high standard for the magazine.

Following Finley as editor came Hubert Smith. Those who remember the work of Hubert will not soon forget the Northers that came out that year. Ed Smiley and Frances Knouse edited the publication during the session of '24 and '25, and they put out the largest Norther that had yet been attempted.

John W. Stayton, Jr., headed the editorial staff for this year, and some enviable records have been set for future editors to follow. The second issue of the fall term, the football and Christmas issue, broke all previous records as to size and sales, with over 100 pages and almost 900 copies sold.

The policy of originality started with the sectional headings. These headings were changed for new ones made by the members of the staff and Editha Hackworth, and the result was a fresher magazine. Next on the new policy came the improvement of the jokes and personals. All hackneyed and stereotyped material was cast out. The success of these two departments is due to the efforts of Jack Webster and Gayden Thompson for the joke section, and to Mary Catherine Crozier for the personals.

The editorials have been quite appealing this year. John Stayton seems to have inherited a free and easy style from his father; but do not think that his ideas and adaptability have been inherited: he has himself to thank for those qualities.

Probably the most original member of the staff was Kathrine Hall. She had seriousness and humor and an astoundingly large vocabulary at her command. Who has failed to see the inevitable "K. H." after innumerable articles in each issue? Kathrine was the assistant editor for the spring term.

Robert Kelly was the most versatile contributor to the issues, being equally good in features of rich humor, in cartoons, and in serious write-ups. His continued features were eagerly awaited by Norther readers and without doubt increased the circulation.

Roberta Coffin, one of the most outstanding all-round students North Dallas has ever had, was our excellent assistant editor for the fall issues.

The business staff was in great part responsible for the success of the school magazine this year, and Nathan Cole, business manager, is to be thanked for this success. Derryl Brooks and James Squires and their assistants collected more advertisements for the Norther than have ever been secured before.

The June '26 seniors believe that they have raised the standards of the Norther to the best of their ability, and their only regret is that they had only one year to work on the staff. It was a year in which valued associations were made, for the spirit and memories of Youth will stand out more and more as the June '26 graduates advance in years. Miss Flemma Snidow has been the sponsor of this publication.

THE PERIGON CLUB was organized May 3, 1922, for the purpose of studying mathematical diversions and kindred subjects. It is now the oldest club in North Dallas High.

The programs have included interesting talks on mathematics by both members and outsiders, mathematical magic, studying and playing chess, music, and many other things both entertaining and educational.

The club has not only been successful in a business way but in a social way also. A Hallowe'en party was given at the home of Miss Sinah Mae Clarkson and was declared a great success by all who attended. The sunrise breakfast given at White Rock Lake on Washington's birthday was equally a social success.

The club credits its successful year to the close co-operation of the members together with the able sponsorship of Arthur W. Harris.

THE CHEMISTRY CLUB, organized May 3, 1925 for the purpose of studying chemistry in its relation to the outside world, has had a most profitable year. Anyone who has had chemistry or is taking it now is eligible to club membership. Meetings are held every other Wednesday afternoon, and those attending enjoy a program consisting of some unusual chemical experiment and various talks on the modern use of chemicals. Under the able sponsorship of Mr. Syron and Miss Gray the members hope to increase their knowledge of chemistry, thus making themselves more able to confront their problems after high school days.

"Just Out of College"

"JUST OUT OF COLLEGE," the Senior play of the class of January 1926 of the North Dallas High School, was presented on the night of January 16 in the school auditorium to a crowd which, despite the rainy weather, filled the hall. The North Dallas High orchestra under the able baton of Miss Ruth Curtis furnished music for the occasion.

"Just Out of College" is by George Ade, and, as could be expected of his plays, the lines were interspersed with sparkling and witty repartee. It is the story of Edward Worthington Swinger, a boy, who has just emerged into the world from college and who falls in love with Caroline Pickering, daughter of a pickle magnate. The magnate feels that the young man may not be "worth his salt," and so to test him gives him $20,000 for three months to invest as he wishes. If Swinger makes a profit, he is to have Caroline's hand. Swinger mixes things up a bit by investing the money in a rival pickle firm and by causing Caroline to believe that he is in love with N. W. Jones, organizer of the rival firm. This Jones is a modern business woman. Pickering, the magnate, untangles in the last act the knot into which the plot has been tied, and the final curtain falls upon a happy scene.

The leads were taken by Sallie Bess Kinsella and Mauldin Allen, who played them to perfection. Excellent work was done by Eleanor Getz as Luella Jenkins Pickering, Caroline's mother; Mabel Fowler as N. W. Jones; Elster Smith as the pickle magnate, Septimus Pickering; Willie Ray Bumpas as Slivers Mason, friend of Swinger; Roy Elliott as Rufus, the office boy; John Moore as Professor H. Dalrymple Bliss, Mrs. Pickering's choice for Caroline; and Scott Hines as a collector of souvenirs. The others of the cast are as follows:

Genevieve Chizzle	Willie Jewel Hill
Beatrice McCormick	Joyce Cate
Aunt Julia Swinger	Margaret Pillet
Rose	Pauline Rudy
The Bingo Girls	Roberta Coffin, Rose Pearce, Jeanne Aymond
Ernest Bradford	Francis Holmes
Collegian	J. B. Martin
A book agent	Kimbell Gebhardt
A solicitor of insurance	Ralph Clanton

They all deserve mention for their dramatic ability. Miss Snidow, our senior play trainer, should be proud of them and of herself for the fine work done upon the play.

There are three more who deserve mention, for without them the play could never have been a success: they are the two business managers, Francis Holmes and Willie Ray Bumpas, and the property man, Atlas Thompson. The play was wholesome and entertaining and we feel sure that every student who witnessed it hopes that his class play will be as successful.

"Polly With A Past"

THE cast for "Polly With A Past," the June senior class play, are hard at work on their parts at the time of the Viking's going to press. By the time the Viking is in the hands of the student body, the play will have been presented and "Polly With A Past" will truly be a thing of the past.

"Polly With A Past" seems to have been made especially for the June '26 senior class. You should have seen the cast practice. If you had happened in on them, you would not have thought it to be a practice—most likely you would have mistaken the naturalness of expression for the cast's everyday, interesting conversation. Nathan Cole as Rex and Hermoine Holt as the "notorious" Polly were excellent in their characterizations. All of the cast was well chosen, if the comments of those who saw them practice may be taken as proof.

By this time you know now that it was really good and that it was the funniest thing ever given at North Dallas. Now wasn't it?

The cast was as follows:

Polly	Hermoine Holt
Myrtle	Julia Gibson
Mrs. Davis	Mayme Sue Robinson
Mrs. Van Zile	Lucille Schmid

The Minstrel

THE fifth annual North Dallas Minstrel which was held Saturday night, March 20, in the school auditorium was a great success. Mr. Walker and Hub Adams very capably directed the music and acting, respectively.

The show opened with the act "Way Down South." The circle included Jim Terril, Marian Toole, Brooks Conover, Alto Cervin, Frank Winn, Frank Whitney, Joe Bradley, Jack Stewart, A. T. Hall, Brim Crow, Roy Bradley, Jack Farmer, Wray Hicks, Leo Cobb, John Stewart, George McClure, Herbert Sapp, and J. C. Smith. Of this group Leo Cobb, Jim Terril, Frank Whitney, and Brooks Conover sang solos. It is the writer's opinion that Leo Cobb's solo "Just a Cottage Small" and Brooks Conover's "Cross My Heart, Mother" were the hits of the evening with the audience.

The end men brought back old times to us, because they were alumni of the school, Bert Harned, Hub Adams, Hugh Jones, and Milford Smith. They have the reputation of being four of the best amateur blackfaces in the city and they surely lived up to their reputation. Their jokes were good and their songs were well sung. Milford sang "Tomorrow Morning," Hugh sang "There Ain't No Flies on Auntie," Bert, "Flaming Mamie," and Hub, "I'm Free, S'ngle, Disengaged," and as an encore he sang a song that he had composed himself and dedicated to Miss Flemma Snidow.

Fred and Peyton Cooper put on a good act with their banjos and songs, and then Bert Harned was presented again in a monologue and a few songs.

The fourth and last act was one written by Hub Adams. The gestures and words of the two colored soldiers, Milford Smith and Hub Adams, were a show in themselves. The name of this act was "The Quest of the Halitosis Bird." Jim Terril, Brooks Conover, Alto Cervin, James Patterson, Hugh Jones, and Wray Hicks also were in this act.

The Alumni Association

ONE of the best of the many advantages attached to being a graduate of North Dallas High School is the privilege of being an alumnus. Of course, anyone can be an alumnus of some school, in the ordinary sense of the word; but in the present sense, it means being a member of the North Dallas Alumni Association. It means the privilege of continued association with other graduates and future graduates. It means the opportunity of keeping in touch with all activities connected with the school, and taking part in those things in which we can be of aid. Besides items of such definite significance, however, there is the intangible but very real element of the influence of our ideals.

Individually and collectively we carry with us the ideals forever associated with North Dallas. The symbols which became so dear to us in high school take on new meanings as we go forth and put their challenge to the test. Our perspectives change; our interests and pursuits give way to newer aims; but no code that we encounter can supplant the unwritten tenets symbolized by the North Star.

There are two annual meetings of the Alumni. Each year there is a banquet and program at Christmas and a breakfast and service at Easter. Each of these reunions the members of the senior class are invited to attend. The Christmas banquet of 1925 was held at the Baker Hotel. The program was centered about the idea of the essential philosophy of Mother Goose rhymes, and the talks illustrated the fact that we never really outgrow them. Edward Smiley, our president, was toastmaster for the following program:

Mother Goose Rhymes - - - - - - Peggy Harrison
Humpty Dumpty - - - - - - - - Hugh Jones
Little Miss Muffet - - - - - - - Alma Abernathy
Simple Simon - - - - - - - Bert Harned
Solo - - - - - - - - - Lawrence Harris
Little Boy Blue - - - - - - - Willard Brown
Solo - - - - - - - - - - J. C. Lilly

The publication issued by the Alumni is the "Compass": there is always a section of the Norther devoted to Alumni activities. The pin is a tiny Viking ship, anchored to the letter "A" as guard.

Officers for the ensuing year are elected at the Christmas banquet. Those elected for 1926 are:

Debate

Ora Nelle

This year makes Ora's second year on the North Dallas girls' debating team. Her success as a debater is the inevitable result of her ready wit and brilliance, backed by a winning personality. In other words, she has every requisite of a public speaker. On the platform she radiates life and vigor, and yet dignity. Whether she wins or whether she loses, her good sportsmanship is ever steady and unexcelled.

Her proficiency in debate has not made her interests one-sided as is shown by her connection with almost every activity in the school.

Mildred Munnerlyn

In Mildred Munnerlyn the Delphian society has brought forth for North Dallas another capable debater. Mildred is an accurate thinker with the Bulldog determination that she will not be out-witted nor out-fought. Inexperienced at the beginning of the season, she was quick in learning the ethical ways of the debater. It may be said that Mildred was never at a loss for the exact word to say while on the stage. There was only one trouble; time was always too short for all of her thoughts. Mildred will return to form the nucleus of the girls' team next year.

Cornelius Olcott

Cornelius Olcott of the Philosophian Literary Society, the new member of this year's debating team and the youngest boy debater in the city, has shown his ability for deep and concentrated thinking in times of crisis.

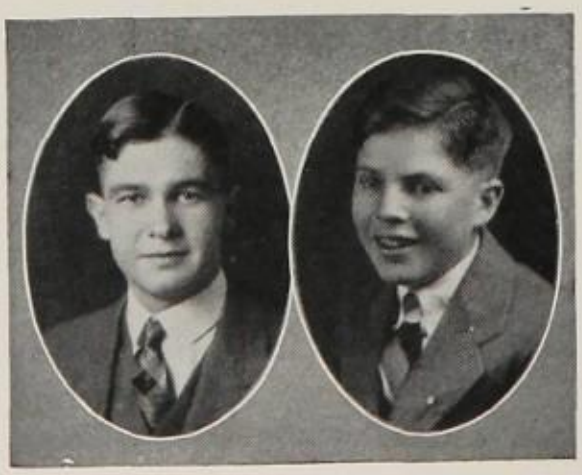
Cornelius' self-confident manner gives promise of a young lawyer of power. His deep thinking and readiness of effective expression have acquired for him from coaches of other teams the appellation of "the walking dictionary."

Cornelius will be in North Dallas again next year. He is expected to form the nucleus of a winning boys' debating team for 1927.

Rollo Kidwell

Rollo, who is debating for his second year, is known by all the students for his friendliness. He is recognized as a clear and conservative thinker. Rollo is never impulsive, but always reserved. In the many debates that Rollo has so rightfully won, we find simplicity of style and statement and cleverness of retort to be characteristic. His unusual forensic skill took him to Denton last year as a city representative.

Rollo is not only a debater and an honor student but is also an invaluable leader in many worthy activities of the school. His graduation will leave a place in North Dallas that can hardly be filled by any other.



Declamation

THE preliminary tryout to pick the three best boys and the three best girls from whom to select later the boy and the girl to represent North Dallas High School in the city-wide contest in declamation under the interscholastic league rules was held March fifth. Ten pupils took part. From among their number the following six were chosen as the best speakers: Ora Nelle, Marie Walker, Willie Bess Burr, Joe Smiley, William Rembert, and Earle Wadsworth. Since Ora Nelle had been previously selected as one of the girl debaters, under the interscholastic league rules she could not represent the school in more than one public speaking event. Given her choice, she elected to appear on the debating team. Consequently Margaret Romine, who had taken part in the preliminary tryout, was selected to take Ora's place in the final tryout.

On Thursday March eleventh, before an assembly of the entire school, the six speakers delivered their selections, and as a result Margaret Romine was chosen as the girl representative, and Joe Smiley as the boy representative of North Dallas in the city-wide contest, held March thirtieth in the Bryan Street High School. Their selections were, respectively, "I am an American" and "Our Re-United Country." Five judges decided this contest, the result of which was that Joe Smiley was voted second place among the boys, and Margaret Romine was voted first place among the girls. Margaret will represent Dallas in the state meet at Austin May sixth.

All of the participants in the preliminaries showed considerable talent, and in the final tryout particularly it was by no means an easy task to determine who our school representatives should be.

At this writing the state meet has not been held, but we are confident that our Margaret will be a strong bidder, among the girls, for the state title in declamation.

Jack Lawson, a football captain of one college, is in love with Doris Bond, a girl of another college, but her mother tries to marry her to an English Lord. Jack and Doris finally run away and marry. At last Mrs. Bond becomes reconciled and the family is again peaceful.

Our Cheer Leaders

Nine for North Dallas, gang! Are you ready?
Rah! Rah! Rah!
North Dallas!

USUALLY North Dallas selects a small pep squad which is led by cheer leaders. But this year the cheer leaders led an enormous pep squad —the whole student body of North Dallas. It is a full-sized job to lead a few, and an extra full-sized job to lead a multitude. That the new plan was a success no one can doubt. This year's cheer leaders were full of cheer and when it was time to lead, they led!

The outsiders that attended our games came to realize "what's in a color" was more perplexing than "what's in a name." As soon as the orange and white walked out on the field, the cheers, the yells, the noise made everyone take notice.

The cheer leaders proved as loyal, as faithful, and as brave as heretofore, for neither dust nor mud dampened their zeal and enthusiasm.

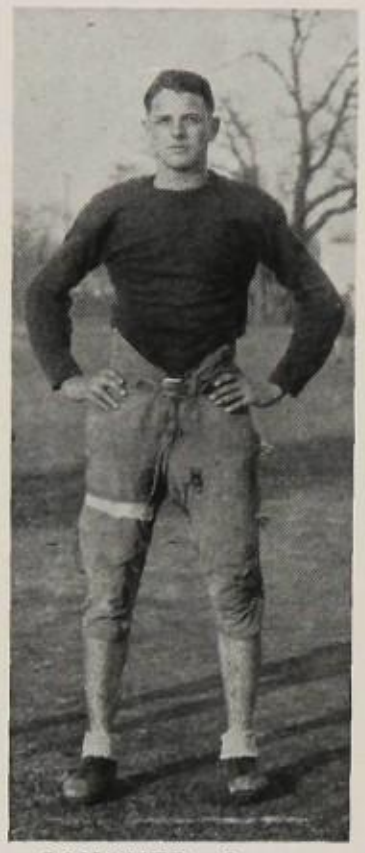
"Squirm," all city guard, playing his fourth year under the orange and white, was the captain of the '25 Bulldogs. He was always steady and dependable and Coach Oehler will have a difficult task in filling his place in '26.



CONOVER—Quarter

Brooks, our all city quarterback, was a triple threat man and played a good game at safety. He was the best punter in the city and his long kicking was a feature of almost every game. We expect him to make an equally brilliant record in college.

SCOVELL—End

"Squint," our contribution to the all state team, was unsurpassed at snagging forward passes, while on the defense his end was seldom run. And covering punts—well just ask any opposing safety man about our "big blond Bulldog." Field has completed four years of service.

STEWART—Full

"Tuffy," one of the best liked men on the team, played bang-up football all season. He hit the line hard, and if there weren't any holes opened for him, he usually made one to suit himself. His defensive work was especially brilliant. Tuffy will not be back next year.

RECHENBERG—Half

"Gamblin'," one of the outfightingest, hard hittingest halfs in the city, turned in good football for North Dallas throughout the year. No matter what stage of the game or what the score was Fritz was always fighting. "Gamblin'" will be back next year and great things are expected of him.

BUTLER—Tackle

"Nigger," Captain-elect for '26, was probably the best lineman on the team this year. He is quiet and unassuming on the campus, but on the gridiron he is a terror. He will be a main-stay in '26 and much is expected of him. His one weakness is for girls. Isn't it?

HUDSON—Guard

The most "beautiful" boy in the school, a football player! It sounds impossible, but "Bump" seems to have his beauty culture in football games. Jimmie was a fighting guard, and will be fighting harder for the team next year!

KLEBER—Guard

Fred was a dandy first team guard, causing some of his opponents a great deal of pain at times, and proving that he knew what he was in the game to do.

COFFIN—Guard

A smart boy and an athlete! How unusual! But Francis was both. He was a North Dallas guard this season on the first team. He played the game; he was in play always square, but never square-headed. Francis graduated in January.

WILLIAMS—End

"Buzzard" was a good end who at times showed brilliance. He turned in especially good work in the Oak Cliff game. Paul will not be back next year.

DIFFEY—Center

North Dallas seems to be a breeding place for good centers and "Pudd'nhead" is no exception to the rule. He is probably the best snapper-back ever developed under the orange and white. Frank will be back next year.

LEMONDS—End

After playing on the second team last year "Cunio" displayed the stamina, fight, and ability to make a regular berth. He broke his shoulder in the middle of the season, but was out again before the season ended, playing the same reliable brand of football. Lester will probably be with us for several coming seasons.

MORRISON — Utility

Willard Morrison is a pigmy in size but has the muscles of an Atlas. When the small fellow was sent in to cover a position, he covered it, although his size belies the fact. Willard is to be back next year and will be one of the powers of the team.

ATKINSON — Quarter

"Snipe," handicapped by his size, made up for it in speed and headwork. Whenever a backfield man was injured or removed from the game, Snipe was rushed to fill the breach and he always delivered the goods. Dick graduated in January '26.

North Dallas 7 — Oak Cliff 7

In the first city series game the Bulldogs tangled up with the Leopards and emerged still fighting and clawing with a 7-7 tie. Although outweighed by the Blue, the Orange came through without a cry. The game was hotly contested throughout with the Leopards having a slight advantage in plunging, after Hopper went in.

At the kick-off, North Dallas returned the ball into the Leopards' territory. They played great offensive football and their drives netted much territory. In the latter part of the first period Brooks Conover tossed a pass to Field Scovell who snatched it and ran across the goal line. The Leopards were caught completely off their guard. After the touchdown Rechenberg dropkicked a beauty through the uprights and made the score 7-0.

There the score stood till the third quarter when by hard line plunges by the Leopards backs, led by Hopper, the ball was shoved over the goal line. The Leopards were helped greatly by a 15 yard penalty which came at this time. Goal was kicked and the score was tied.

Conover, the heady Bulldog quarter, turned in an especially good game and his punting and passing featured. Co-starring with him was Field Scovell, who not only made our touchdown but turned in a great defensive game also.

For the Leopards, Hopper stood out. Hopper is a team almost by himself.

North Dallas 0 — Bryan 0

On Saturday, November 7, two tribes of kinsmen in name, the Bulldogs and Wolves, met on the gridiron, but neither was able to get behind the other; so the game ended in a scoreless tie. The Bulldogs threatened three times but were unable to put the pigskin across for the deciding edge.

The game was in Bryan territory throughout, and it was only the tenacity of the Wolves' line that saved them.

In the first quarter the Bulldogs started a drive that put them on the ten-yard line. Then a penalty put them back five yards. On a pass they planted the ball on the Wolves' two-yard line but were unable to cross. This was repeated three times through the course of the game, but they were never able to go over.

Gordy Brown was a tower of strength in the opposing line and much of Bryan's defensive work centered on him. Time and again he stopped the Bulldog backs for no gain at all.

Brooks Conover turned in his usual game at quarter as did Scovell at end. Rechenberg, Hudson, Jackson, and Butler also stood out during the game.

Gordy Brown was the Bryan star, although Lamm and Andrews played good football.

North Dallas 20 — Sunset 0

In the third city series game the Bulldogs tangled with the Sunset

Buffaloes, from the Southwest flats of Dallas, and emerged at the long end of a 20-0 score. Although playing their first year as a city series football team, the Buffaloes played a very creditable game.

The Bulldogs were never completely stopped, and they scored in the first, third, and fourth quarters. The low and hard tackling of the Sunset eleven kept down the scoring.

The first score came as a result of a series of line bucks and passes and a 35-yard run by Rechenberg. Rechenberg kicked goal.

In the third quarter Dick Atkinson played his first city series game at quarter, slipped through the line for the second marker. Rechenberg missed goal. In the fourth quarter Rechenberg again circled end for a touchdown. He also added the extra point.

Rechenberg was easily the outstanding star of the game. His punting, passing, and running made him a source of unending trouble for the Buffaloes.

Atkinson also had a good day and filled Brook's place at quarter to everyone's satisfaction. Hudson, Butler, Hall, and Diffey also stood out for the Bulldogs, as did Catron and Robinson for Sunset.

North Dallas 0 — Forest 28

In the last and most crucial of the city series games, with the city title hanging in the balance, the Bulldogs suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Forest Avenue Lions by a stinging score of 28-0. The victory was well earned by the Lions as they won on straight, flashing football.

This defeat, however, was partly offset by the fact that Forest was runner up for the state title.

Throughout the first half the Bulldogs fought the Lions to a standstill. They were not able to get an advantage themselves, but the Lions weren't either. In the second quarter Williams grabbed a pass and raced thirty-five yards and across the goal line, but the ball was brought back on a charge of offside. The half ended with neither side's holding any advantage.

In the second half the Lions came back with a running, passing, and trick attack that swept everything before it. Before the game ended they had amassed a total of 28 points.

The outstanding men were Rechenberg and Scovell for the Bulldogs, and the Messina brothers for Forest.

North Dallas 18 — Forney 0

In the first game of the season the Bulldogs crushed the Forney eleven to a score of 18-0. The Forney team did not threaten once. They were held safe by the Bulldog pass defense. Many substitutions were made, and it was in this game that we lost little Jerry Hemzal, who received a twisted knee.

"Squirm" Jackson elected to kick when the game opened. "Squirm" was in the first tackle and Nash was downed on his own twenty-yard line. Forney opened up on an ærial attack, but failing to gain, they were forced to kick. North Dallas then started a drive that was never stopped, and before the quarter ended Brooks Conover went over for the first touchdown. He failed to kick goal. The second touchdown came on a punt blocked by Jackson who recovered and ran for a touchdown. Brooks failed to kick goal. The half ended with the score of 12-0.

In the third quarter a series of line smashes and end runs put the ball on Forney's seven-yard line. Then Rechenberg stepped across tackle for the final score. Brooks failed to kick goal.

The outstanding players were Conover, Turley, Kleber, Jackson, Rechenberg, and Stewart for the Bulldogs, and Nash, Taylor, and Blake for the Forney eleven.

North Dallas 7 — Austin College 0

It was the work of Rechenberg, Bulldog back, that gave North Dallas its victory over the Austin College Freshmen on Saturday, October 10. He scored the only touchdown of the melee and made the extra point on a drop kick. The much talked-of Aldridge was stopped every time but once, when he got away to a forty-five-yard run before he was downed.

The first half opened with Austin College kicking off. Then a midfield battle started. Neither team was able to gain an advantage; so the half ended with the score 0-0.

The second half, however, told a different story. Austin College kicked to Stewart, who returned to forty-yard line. After tries at line, a short pass was completed, giving North Dallas first down in midfield. A steady march put the ball on the Fish thirty-yard line. Rechenberg then carried it to the seven-yard line. On the next play he circled right end for the touchdown. He also drop-kicked the goal. After this one touchdown, neither side was able to make any material gains, and the game ended 7-0.

The outstanding players for the Bulldogs were Rechenberg, Hudson, Jackson, and Conover, and for the Freshmen, Aldridge and Lewis.

North Dallas 12 — Greenville 12

On Saturday, October 17, the North Dallas Bulldogs journeyed to Greenville and clashed with the Greenville High Lions in a 12-12 tie. The Lions showed themselves to be a real, fighting team and capable of giving any team trouble. The field was muddy and this slowed up the game considerably.

Greenville started scoring early in the game when Brooks Conover was forced to make a safety in the first quarter. He fumbled a punt and was tackled across his own goal line. In the second quarter, after Greenville had carried the ball to North Dallas' thirty-yard line, Bird, fast Greenville quarterback, booted a field goal. In the same quarter Bird ran sixty yards for a touchdown after he recovered a fluke punt which bounded off the head of Rechenberg, Bulldog halfback. Bird then kicked goal. This made the score 12-0 in favor of Greenville, and thus it stayed till the half was over.

In the second half the Bulldogs came back with a different spirit and then Conover took things in hand. On a fake pass Conover sprinted thirty-five yards before he went out of bounds on Greenville's ten-yard line. A completed pass and a plunge by Hall put the ball over for the touchdown. Rechenberg missed the trial for an extra point. In the closing minutes of the game Conover ran forty-five yards through a broken field to Greenville's one-yard line. On the next play he wiggled through for the touchdown. Rechenberg missed goal. Time was the only thing that prevented another victory for the Bulldogs and the game ended 12-12.

The outstanding players were Conover, Hall, Morrison, and Scovell for the Bulldogs, and Bird and Treadway for Greenville.

North Dallas 6 — Mexia 6

In the second out-of-the-city game in two weeks the Bulldogs again were held to a tie by the Mexia High School eleven with a score of 6-6. The tie was pure luck for the Mexia team, as they were completely outclassed.

Time and again the slashing Bulldog backs led by Conover and Rechenberg drove the ball inside the ten-yard line only to have a fumble recovered and kicked back to midfield by Mexia.

The North Dallas score came in the second quarter when they carried over on straight football. Many more scores would probably have been added to the Bulldog total, but for costly fumbles at the critical times.

In the third quarter, Perkinson, the fast Mexia back, raced seventy yards for the only Mexia score of the game.

The outstanding players were Conover, Rechenberg, Jackson, and Hudson for the Bulldogs, and Perkinson for Mexia.

North Dallas 7 — Corsicana 0

After tying four straight games the Bulldogs became discontented and smashed through the Corsicana High eleven Armistice Day at Corsicana by a score of 7 to 0. Although outweighed by Corsicana, the Bulldogs completely outclassed them in every way.

The victory cost the Bulldogs dearly, however, as Brooks Conover was taken from the game in the first quarter with an injured shoulder. Atkinson took his place and filled in quite creditably.

The game was played for the most part in Corsicana's territory. In the second quarter Scovell grabbed a pass from Rechenberg and registered the marker. Fritz kicked goal. After the score the Bulldogs relied on straight football and carried the ball many times deeply into enemy territory, but were unable to score again.

In the last quarter Corsicana made her lone threat of the game. In this quarter she registered practically all her first downs, but her efforts came to naught as the Bulldogs were not in the humor for another tie game.

The outstanding players were Rechenberg, Atkinson, Hudson, and Butler for the Bulldogs, and Vornell and Greene for Corsicana.

BASKET BALL
FRED AVERY

The Season

North Dallas 25 — Sunset 19

A sport prophecy came true for one time and the Bulldogs, in their third city series basket ball struggle, came through with a win from the young Sunset Buffalo basketeers. The floor game of the Bulldogs was the best they have shown this year and their accuracy at locating the basket was also good.

Much credit is due the purple and white team, however. They fought an uphill battle all the way, were always in striking distance, but could never manage to get in the lead.

The outstanding feature of the game was the goal shooting of Jimmie Faulk, our lanky Bulldog guard. He consistently took the ball the length of the court and then looped the basket. During the fray he accounted for 12 of the 25 points scored by North Dallas.

Other outstanding players were Conover, Scovell, and Hudson.

North Dallas 30 — Sunset 19

Another prophecy came true. Being favored to win the Bulldogs lived true to the word and came through with a 30-19 win from Sunset. The Bulldogs were never pressed at any time of the game but the Buffaloes showed real fight.

North Dallas got started early and gained a lead she never lost. The floor work and shooting of the orange and white teams was just too much for the Sunset players. As in the previous engagement they fought a hard battle but lacked the ability to count enough markers to win.

The outstanding performers for the Bulldogs were Faulk, Diffey, Hudson, and Conover.

North Dallas 22 — Bryan 36

In their second encounter with the Wolves, the Bulldogs were again defeated 36-22. In this game the Bulldogs scored the same number of points as in the previous encounter, while Bryan was able to chalk up 2 more.

The game was cleanly played and was exciting from start to finish.

The Bulldogs fought gamely but were not able to cope with the great floor work and basket tossing of the Wolves.

The Wolves hopped off to an early lead and were never turned. There seemed to be a Bryan man everywhere. The Bulldogs were not without offensive strength, however, as the score shows.

The outstanding players for North Dallas were Hudson, Conover, Faulk, and Scovell.

North Dallas 14 — Oak Cliff 25

In the fifth game of the city series the Bulldogs threw a real scare into the Leopard followers at the live stock arena when they led the fighting Leopards until the third quarter. However, the Leopards finally woke up, and, flashing a form that made them champions, they ran the score up to 25-14 before the final whistle blew.

In the first quarter the Bulldogs got busy and piled up a 7 point lead. However, the Leopards also got busy and the score stood North Dallas 9 —Oak Cliff 8 at the end of the half. During the second half the Leopards kept on going and at the same time held the Bulldogs to five points. They were aided, however, by the absence of Scovell, stellar Bulldog guard, who was taken out on personal fouls.

Scovell, Conover, and Hudson were, as usual, the outstanding performers for the Bulldogs.

North Dallas 17 — Forest 19

In the closest and most exciting game of the series the Bulldogs were defeated in a heartbreaking finish by the Lions with a scant margin of 19-17. Both teams were about evenly matched in all departments of the game except that Forest showed a slight edge in free goal shooting. It was this that determined the outcome as both teams accounted for the same number of field goals.

Forest gained an early lead in the first quarter but the Bulldogs came back to knot the score at 9 all at the end of the first half. The score see-sawed back and forth until the last seconds of play. At this time the score was 17-17, and then out of the dust came Fink, the flashy Lion forward, and tossed a pretty field goal to end the contest.

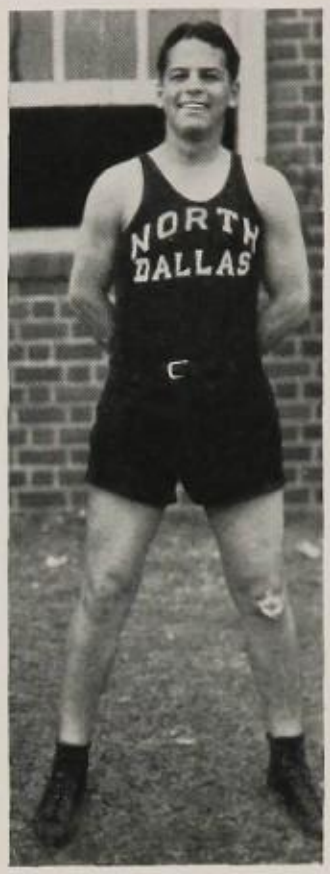
Conover was high point man for the Bulldogs, with 9 points. Faulk, Hudson, and Scovell also played creditably.

CONOVER—Forward

Brooks Conover had a bad start in basketball this season, but anyone will testify as to his breezy finish. He proved that the short shots are safer and more reliable than the long ones. Brooks was the captain of this year's team, and also ranked high in the individual scoring.

FAULK—Forward

The elongated Jimmie Faulk was a marvel when he got loose, and he rarely remained tranquil. Jimmie ranked among the high point men in the city. Who did not enjoy seeing Jimmie make those shots when he was being guarded by almost the whole of the opposing team?

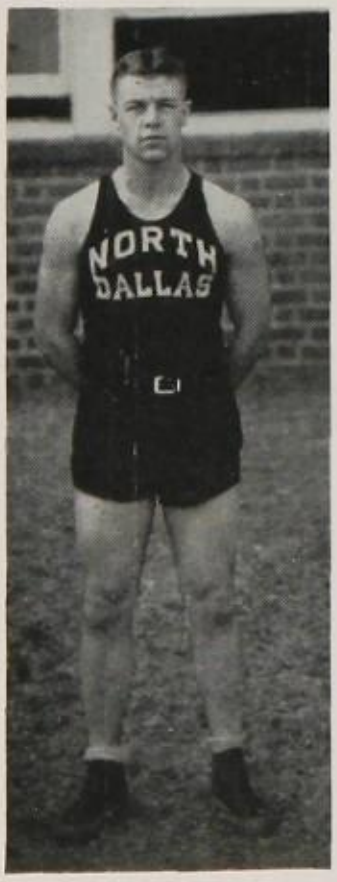


HUDSON—Guard

Everyone knows handsome Hudson, the North Dallas crack guard, who starred all through the season, and kept his all-seeing eye on the fastest dribbler. He was good in blocking plays and in recovering the ball. Jimmie usually slowed up the opponent who thought himself a fast man.

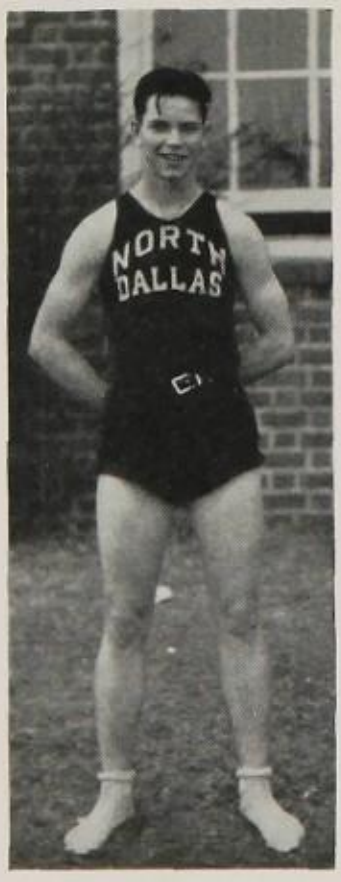
SCOVELL—Guard

Boy, didn't you get a thrill when you saw big Field Scovell tearing after the man with the ball? And do you remember the first game with Oak Cliff, how he spoiled a certain star's chances for that game? The team will miss Field next year.



DIFFEY—Forward

Frank played a consistent game all season. He made some beautiful long shots that sent the rooters' section in an uproar each time. Frank had the true team spirit, never trying for a possible point when a team-mate was nearer the basket.

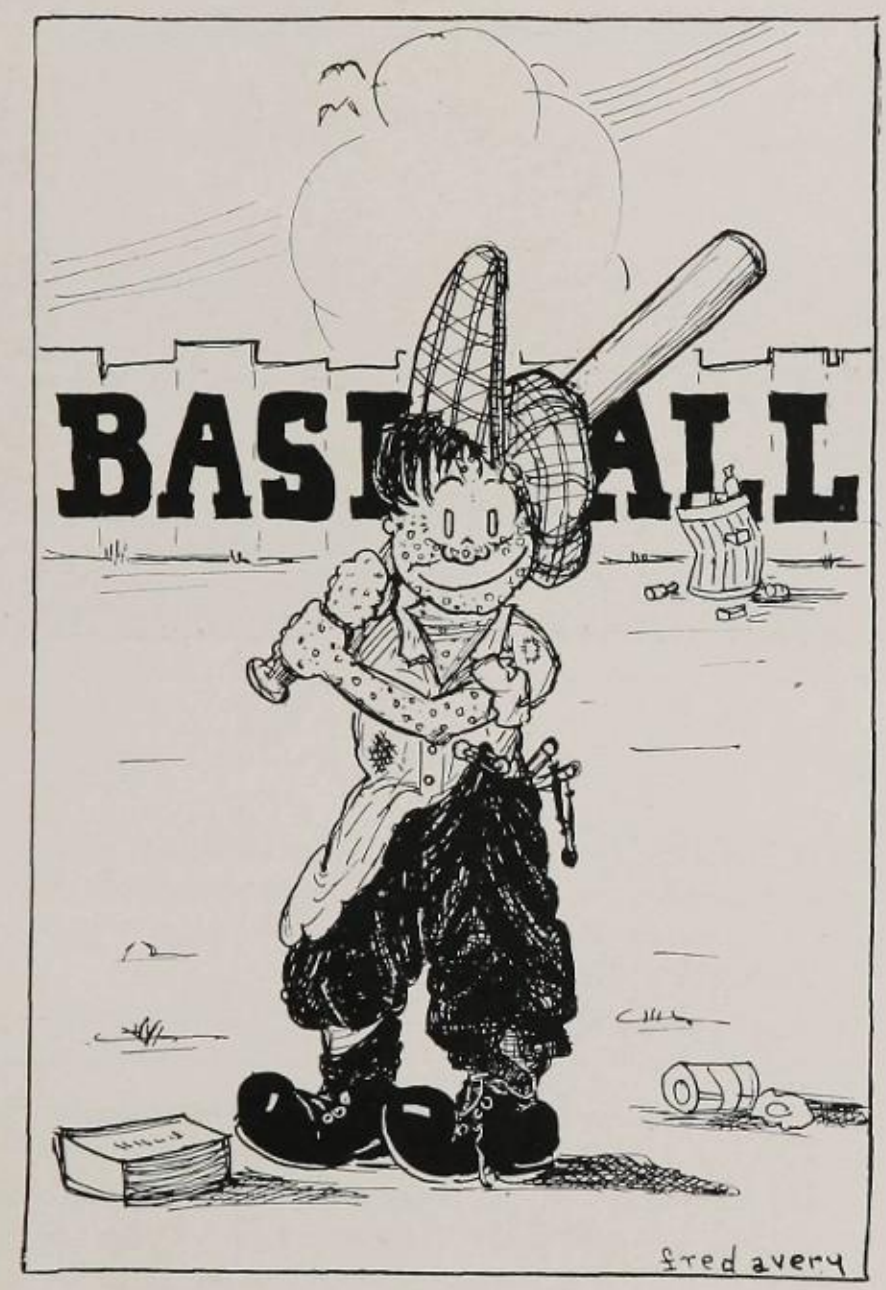


MALONE—Center

Charley can reach the ball with ease at the blow of the whistle. He was the first string substitute this year, and got into every city series game. He did some good guarding and should be good on the first team next year.

LEMONDS—Guard

Lester was a sub-guard this year, but he got into almost every game in the city series. He showed that he had some good stuff in him. He was capable of keeping his eye on the ball, and used his judgment to good advantage in many plays.



BASEBALL
fred avery

Baseball

THE fact that E. D. Walker can change a green team into a winning machine was demonstrated when with only three letter men back, Conover, Crenshaw, and Diffey, he picked up a few straggling ball players and molded them into what now looks like a championship team.

In all the games so far, which include Rockwall, Wylie, Waxahachie, Plano, S. M. U. Fish, and all the city teams, the Bulldogs have lost but two encounters.

Chandler and Diffey, catcher and pitcher respectively, form a combination that looms up with the best in the city. Diffey in his two starts in the city series has won both his games. In the eighteen innings he has pitched the opposition has nicked him for only seven hits and one run. Rechenberg, another pitcher, has done some good work on the mound, but owing to his terific hitting in the early games Mr. Walker shifted him to right field. Lemond and Cobb though not regular pitchers have turned in some nice work in practice games.

The infield is composed of Staten, 1st base; Hayes, 2nd base; Diffey, short stop, and Crenshaw, 3rd base, with Lemonds, Reeder, and Hemzal in reserve. The infield has been working well and is a good combination.

The outfield, composed of Conover in left, H. Dietrich in center and Rechenberg in right is a heavy-hitting trio. Another member of the Dietrich family is held as a reserve fielder.

With this aggregation going at top speed we can't see the cup anywhere but in North Dallas High School.

Waxahachie 6 — North Dallas 1

Playing the first game of the season with the leading high school team of three states the North Dallas Bulldogs were defeated by the Waxahachie Indians, 6 to 1. The inability of the Bulldogs to solve the delivery of Bean, Waxahachie pitching ace, was the reason for their defeat.

During the fracas the Bulldogs collected five hits and one run. Rechenberg, Bulldog pitcher, turned in a good game.

The green Bulldog machine worked well together and with a little better hitting will make a dangerous combination.

Chandler, the Bulldog backstop, proved that he's all there and turned in a good game.

North Dallas 5 — Wylie 3

North Dallas took a trip to Wylie, Texas, and beat the high school team of that city to the tune of 5 to 3.

The Bulldogs did some classy hitting and fielding in this contest as did the Wylie team.

Rechenberg, North Dallas pitching ace, did some fine hurling and the team as a whole played good baseball.

North Dallas 2 — Sunset 0

In a very close game, featured by very tight pitching, the North Dallas Bulldogs defeated the Sunset Bisons by a score of 2 to 0. The game was very interesting and hotly contested throughout.

Diffey, for the Bulldogs, allowed only three hits and no two of them in the same inning. He was never in trouble and behind classy fielding turned in the first Bulldog shutout of the season.

Moody, Sunset pitcher, also gave up only three hits but bad luck was with him. In the second, Chandler, Bulldog catcher, rapped out a two-base blow and Dietrich, who was on second, scored. The Bulldogs' last run came in the sixth inning when Conover was hit by a pitched ball. He scored later in the inning on an overthrow.

North Dallas 22 — Oak Cliff 1

In the first game of the 1926 city series baseball schedule the Bulldogs went on a rampage and knocked the offerings of three of the Leopard pitchers to all corners of Gardner Park for a 22 to 1 win. Watt, the Leopard ace, was ineffective against the long string of right hand batters that he faced; so he went out in the fifth. Lumpkin who replaced him was also ineffective.

Rechenberg, Bulldog ace, held the Leopards to five hits and struck out nine batters. He pitched a brilliant game and, with an almost flawless combination back of him, was never in trouble.

The lone Cliff run came as a result of an error and a hit.

The game gave promise of settling down to a pitchers' duel until the fifth when the Bulldogs got started and scored eight runs. After that it was just a question of when they would stop making runs.

Chandler, Diffey, and Rechenberg led the Bulldog swatters with three blows apiece.

North Dallas 5 — Bryan 11

In the second game of the series the Bryan Wolves slugged their way to a 11-5 victory over the Bulldogs. Jacobs for the Wolves hurled a good game and didn't seem to have to exert himself. His team mates gave him a nice lead in the third and he held it all the way.

In the third inning the Wolves started a rally that drove Rechenberg to the showers and scored five runs. Diffey who relieved him did little better. Diffey's support, however, was erratic and the Wolves made hits and runs almost at will.

The game throughout was very loosely played with both sides making many errors. Van Lamm of Bryan was the outstanding hitter of the day with three base blows.

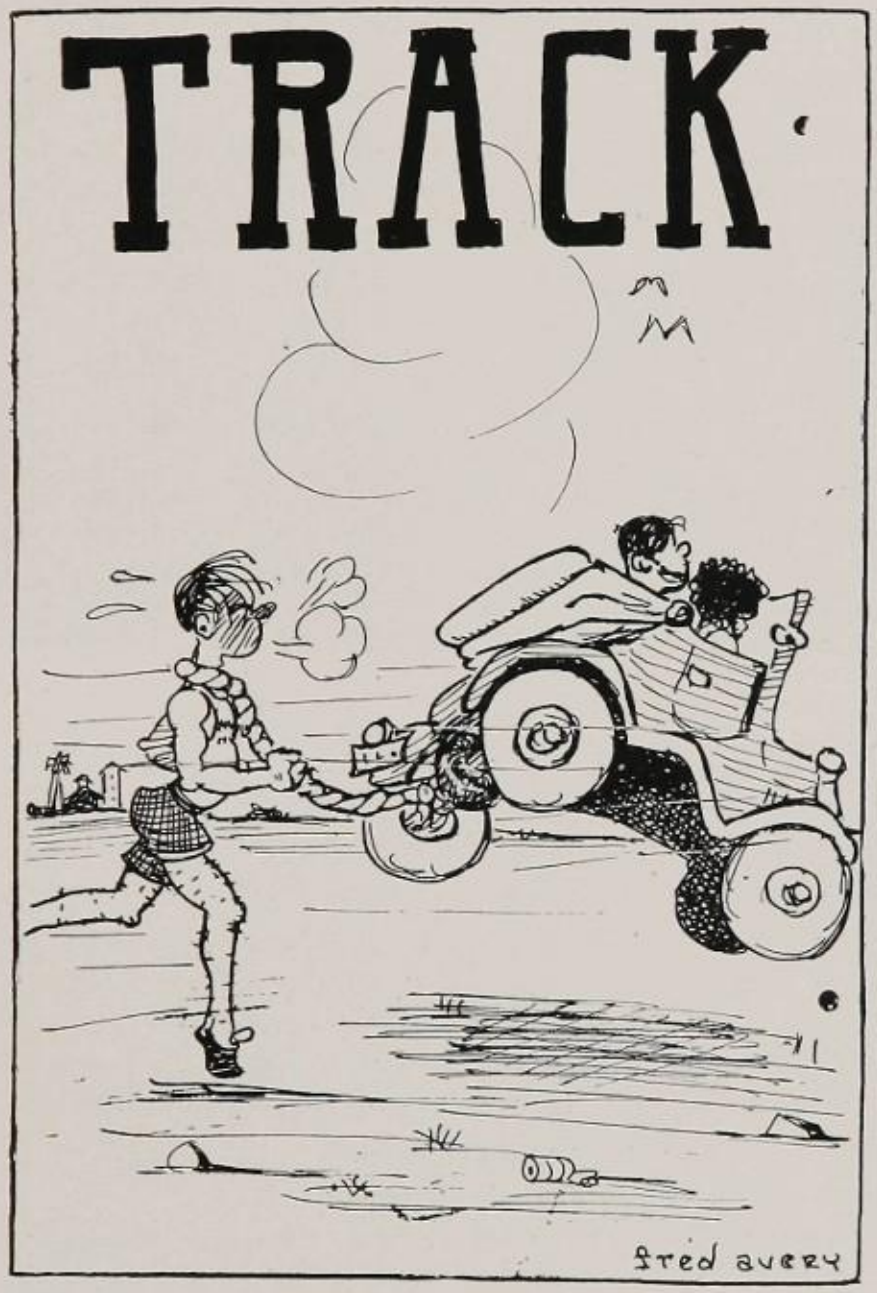
North Dallas 3 — Forest 1

Playing their first game with the team favored to win the city championship this year, the Bulldogs ran away with a 3 to 1 win. The game was interesting but at times was loosely played.

Diffey, Bulldog pitcher, was very effective and allowed only four hits. He struck out six men and did not give up a base on balls during the fracas. Forest scored her lone run in the third.

Lemonds, substituting at shortshop for the Bulldogs, turned in a nice game and made some sensational catches. Chandler, Bulldog catcher, played a good game behind the bat and also secured the only extra base hit of the game.

The Bulldogs' first run came in second on clean hits. They added another in the fourth with timely hits and another in the ninth when Garlitz walked a man in.



TRACK
fred avery

Track

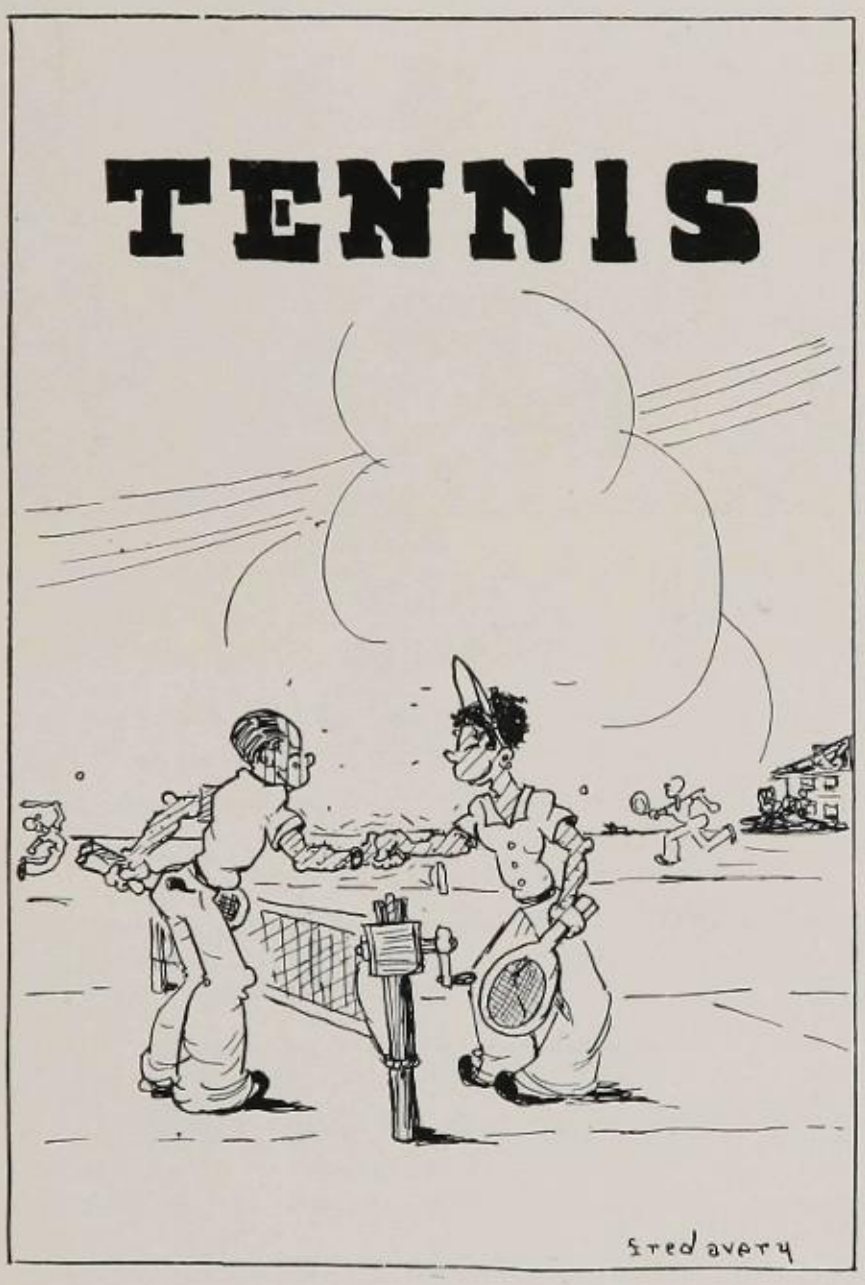
THE North Dallas Track Team enjoyed a very successful season considering the circumstances under which they trained.

The men who entered the city track meet were Winton Fudge and Eugene Philips in the mile run; Thomas Porter in the half-mile run; John Philips, Raymond McRee, and Bonner Clark in the quarter-mile run; Newton Lamb and Elmer Cline in the two hundred and twenty yard dash; Philips, Clark, McRee and Hunter of the relay team; and Kenneth Butler in the discus throw. Oscar Fildes was to have entered the mile run but at the last minute was taken out upon the recommendation of his doctor.

No places were obtained by any of the above men except by Butler who won third place in the discus throw, and by the relay team which won third place due to Forest's being disqualified.

The team is very grateful to the coaches, Mr. Baker, head coach, Mr. Oehler, coach of distance and middle distances, and Mr. Scarbrough, field coach, for their untiring efforts and patience with their men.

It is hoped that North Dallas will have a cinder track by next year, for it was the schools that had the cinder tracks that won first, second, and third places at the city meet. It is also hoped that there will be a greater response next season when the call for track men is issued.



TENNIS
fred avery

Herbert Kirkland, Minnie Johnson, Charles Connerty, Kathleen McCrary, Bernard Connerty, Mary Johnson, Elliott Kennemer.

Tennis

THE tennis team has been unusually good this year, thanks to the sponsorship of our able coach, Mr. F. M. DeLaney. Mr. DeLaney had the players practicing early in the fall and through the winter so that at the beginning of the tennis season they were in fine form.

MINNIE JOHNSON

Mowing down opposition as a sickle mows a wheat field, Minnie crashed her way to the girls' championship of North Dallas in a decisive victory over her parents' other daughter, Mary. Minnie is new to the school and put fresh vigor in the girls' tennis team. She will pilot the pill next year.

KATHLEEN McCRARY

At times Kathleen showed flashes of great tennis and with a little improvement should have a good chance for next year's championship.

MARY JOHNSON

Like her sister Minnie, Mary could manipulate the racket with telling effects. The champion was her only thorn in the flesh.

HERBERT KIRKLAND

Despite the loss of both of last year's letter men, Frank O'Bannon and Martial Davoust, fate furnished North Dallas hope in the person of Herbert Kirkland. Newcomer though he was, it did not take Kirkland long to show himself almost every inch a champion. He is not as steady as he might be, but his powerful serves and magnificent net smashes overbalance his inconsistency.

CHARLES CONNERTY

As Kirkland's partner in doubles Charles Connerty, the Cole Park product, was well able to uphold his side of the clay. Connerty knows tennis in theory and practice. He is a Napoleon at the net and his only Waterloo at North Dallas was the championship game.

ELLIOTT KENNEMER

Elliott said he was a good player and we let it go at that. Kennemer showed very good form in spite of the fact that he was incapacitated by influenza just before the tennis season.

BERNARD CONNERTY

Although not as skilled as his older brother, Bernard was no rooky with his racket. He will have a fair chance next year.

GOLF

Golf

THROUGH two seasons the North Dallas Golf Team has built a reputation to be proud of among the Dallas High Schools. Under the leadership of Francis Holmes in 1924 the team topped second place in the city series. Holmes always kept his team in good shape by calling them to practice at some local course. He chose for his team Earl Sealey, William Crosier, Leo Cobb, Elmo Ramsey, Haskell Parham, Horace Henry, David Goldman, Noel Akers, Jack Stewart, and Robert Snyder.

In 1925 a new team was organized under David Goldman. The members were Jack Stewart, Leo Cobb, Haskell Parham, Horace Henry, Noel Akers, George Gambill, Perry Keith, Charles Malone, and Charles Johnson.

The North Dallas Golf Team was sponsored by Mr. Arthur W. Harris who had recently become interested in the new, sporty game. The 1926 team has not yet been organized but it will probably consist of many of the former members, who throughly understand the game.

Each series is divided into three parts, requiring a match on every Saturday morning. The team consisted of six regular members and four substitutes.

GYM AND R. O. T. C.

Physical Training

Through some error in judgment, to the average person the word "gym" carries with it an idea of sports, amusements, and a series of insignificant exercises. This, however, is an entirely mistaken idea, for no where in the entire school is there a place of more benefit to the students than is the gymnasium.

Although one of the outstanding purposes of a well equipped gymnasium is to create a desire for sports and athletic contests, the accomplishment of this aim is only one of the many things which the North Dallas gym has done for those students who have taken advantage of the opportunity it offers.

By taking an active interest in all phases of the work, the girls are developed in many different ways. Co-ordination of mind and body is the biggest aim of physical training. Team work and good sportsmanship come as the result of clean, well played games. Discipline is instilled into the girls in all parts of the work, and obedience is one of the prime requisites. Ability to understand and interpret commands and mental alertness are the principal results of marching tactics, while grace, agility, and rhythm are emphasized in the various phases of dancing and technique.

Swedish exercises, general gymnastics, mat work, wand and Indian club drills, work on stall bars, and traveling on horizontal bars likewise play an important part in the life of the gym girl. Then, too, there must necessarily be a great deal of routine gone through with each week. Uniforms must be kept in shape, and every girl must keep up with her own things. Teeth and finger nail inspections are essential and have their place on the weekly calendar.

Then come the most popular times—the different ball seasons. Spring brings with it a desire for baseball; so inter-class baseball games attract a great deal of attention. On warm days the girls are permitted to play outside—and this creates enthusiasm.

Miss Mary Bell Smith, our former instructor, went to New York City at the close of school last June, and her place was filled by Miss Mary Freeman. During the Christmas holidays, however, Miss Freeman was called to Iowa, and her place was temporarily filled by Miss Dorothy White, the regular assistant. In a short time Mrs. Anna Belle Henry Tyson, who had formerly assisted Miss Smith, was secured as the regular instructor for the rest of the year.

MAJOR DUDLEY KENNETH LANSING

Major Lansing is the man to whom the North Dallas Battalion owes its success. He has been with the school since its beginning and his ability as an organizer and instructor has been fully demonstrated by the high-standing which North Dallas has made for itself in the R. O. T. C. of Dallas. The organization and the successful carrying on of the Dads' Club by Major Lansing has been of great benefit to the corps, while undoubtedly each boy who has attended these meetings has been made to feel the comradeship and interest of his father and of his other older friends.

SERGEANT JOHN BULOCH

"Sergeant" is the chief instructor of the Battalion and on his shoulders falls the responsibility of giving the cadets technical military instruction. He presides over both the commissioned and non-commissioned officers' meetings. His manner is always that of good comradeship as well as that of an instructor. He also drills all of the North Dallas crack companies, and the splendid record they have made in the military tournaments is a marked evidence of his ability. Sergeant also gives instruction to the boys in shooting and organizes all the rifle teams that compete in the city and state tournaments.

CADET MAJOR CHARLES PADGITT, JR.

Major Padgitt has completed four successful years of R. O. T. C. in the North Dallas High School. He served as Junior Major during the fall term of 1925 and has commanded the Battalion the spring term of 1926. He took part in two crack companies and was right guide in the fall crack company of 1924, which won a high place in the State competitive drills. During the terms of 1924 and 1925 he was commander of "Troop C" Cavalry of the R. O. T. C. of Dallas. He has attended three Camp Dallas camps and was Commander of the Cavalry at the Mineral Wells camp of 1925.

CADET CAPTAIN DAVID MAYER

Captain Mayer has completed three and one-half years in the R. O. T. C. He has taken part in five crack companies, commanding the crack company of fall, 1925. He has just completed an efficient term as adjutant to Major Padgitt and will command the Battalion himself next fall. He has attended three Camp Dallas camps and was executive officer of the artillery during the camp of 1925.

Twice-Told Tales.

Marie Walker certainly does look cute in her little sister's dress.

* * *

On the quiet and romantic afternoons Joe Mac Jones just loves to drive by Geneva Garretson's hangout.

Thomas Hanlon looks just like the collar ad in the Saturday Evening Post in his new Victory-Wilson tux. (He's worn it once.)

* * *

If you crave to cast your eyes upon the original Romeo and Juliet, see Rollo and Lucy Leigh in English class.

* * *

Our beloved Fred Kleber picks up an olive a day in the lunch room. He says they are fine to obtain that Palm Olive complexion.

Gene—"What became of the car you drove this fall, Bill?"

Bill—"Oh, it went up in smoke."

Why teachers turn gray—visit the spacious battle ground of 103 any afternoon.

* * *

Fritz surely does adore blond hair. Page Ollie.

Miss Epperson—"A tribe may be considered as a group. Now what would we have if several tribes got together?"

Brooks C. (just waking up)—"War."

Mrs. Bigbee—"Twenty periods in 103."

Thoughtful Student—"You're certainly liberal with another fellow's time."

* * *

Mr. Scarborough stands out in front of the Mechanical Drawing room every morning in his wool shirt and grey pants—to let all the girls see him.

Ask Alfred Prescott to show you that new Charleston step he learned on the kitchen linoleum.

Saluting the colors.

SOME have excelled in the realm of science, some in the realm of oratory, while still others are great in athletics. Most of these are notorious and will be recognized immediately.

If Miss Snidow should receive all the quarters we owe her.

Dudley Kenneth certainly has a muscular physique—Pillows? We often wonder too.

* * *

The Republic Passional Bank is getting skilled students in mathematics from North Dallas to work. They are picking these out from the life members in 103.

* * *

"Clopton, Scott, and Davis Tonic"—Sure cure for insomnia.

* * *

If anyone wishes to know anything or the whereabouts of Adell, page Pat Patterson! ! He always knows.

* * *

On the night of February 26, Mr. Walker was seen sitting on the third row in the middle section of the Lyric Theater. Now we know where he finds the dirty cracks he pulls in the 7th period Commercial Law class.

* * *

Several of us charter members of 103 have written Ma Ferguson for a pardon. (This can't be vetoed by Ella G.)

* * *

The Oak Lawn Thugs certainly do enjoy going to the Majestic on Saturday. They seem to have a liking for the elevator boy. ? ? ? ?

John Chandler places hot towel applications, then Dirtie's Beauty Clay, then rubbing alcohol, to retain his school complexion.

Mac Gregory calls Marian "Coffee," 'cause he can't sleep at night for her.

James Jones was heard singing the other day in soft, sweet, sobful tones — "Some one came and took her away."

* * *

"The best men do not graduate; so do not study long or late." This epitaph may be seen hanging on the wall of almost any red ink king.

* * *

Alec Hudson went spooning the other day. He swiped all the silver in the lunch room.

* * *

Some people take gym to reduce—others eat in our lunch room.

* * *

Mr. Harris was seen gazing at a picture of himself when he was nineteen. "A slender, straight, slim figure!" he was sorrowfully sighing. "Them days is gone forever!"

* * *

Mr. Morphis made that cute little green apron Miss-Terry wears. He gave it to her on her birthday—(the heat from the candles was so terrific that it scorched the walls).

* * *

We often wonder where Mr. Harris has his belts made.

* * *

Our blossoming Mr. Scarborough was seen at the Oak Lawn Theater Tuesday night March 16. We wonder if the attraction was the picture or the piano player.

What's in a name? See Lee Schrimpf!

Mr. Hill got his training as a public speaker selling the Saturday Evening Post.

A tough guy was attempting to shoot Miss Dice on Elm Street when a cop walked up. He was arrested for shooting dice.

* * *

We will now sing a little song entitled "How To Get Along Without Arch Preservers" by the Major.

Jimmie Parker—"Mrs. Harper, this meat is tough."

Mrs. Harper—"Sir, we are not responsible for the morals of our food."

Our idea of a perfect summer vacation:
A trip to the North Pole.
Our idea of a perfect winter vacation:
A trip to the South Pole.

Nathan (at class meeting)—"We will now discuss what we are to wear at the senior day program. How would arm bands do? ! ! !

* * *

Stanley—"I took a tramp to Fort Worth yesterday."

Margaret—"Did you leave him there?"

Principal and Interest.

Mud—"I was just thinking about getting married."

Balfour—"Why don't you?"

Mud—"The terrible cost of materials, shingles, and paints."

Balfour—"House?"

Mud—"No, wife."

* * *

Another reason why we hate to have a photograph taken is because it makes us look as if we were having a photograph taken.

* * *

The part of an auto that causes more accidents than any other is the nut that holds the steering wheel.

Housewife—"Norma, why didn't you brush the cob webs down?"

Nora—"Sure, ma'am, and I thought they was part of the radio!"

AN INTRODUCTION

Sam H. (on street car after school)—"Well, I admit I know more than you do."

Mary Belle G.—"Really?"

Sam H.—"Yes, I know my name."

* * *

Mary had a little lamb—
You've heard it oft before—
And then she passed her plate again
And had a little more.

* * *

Elizabeth Sandford—"I think the Charleston is awful."

Mary Katherine Boone—"I can't learn it, either."

The IV-A's were getting ready for an entertainment. The president wanted to get cars to take them to their destination; so he said, "Rollo, get the names and capacity of those who have cars."

Marian Wallace (at football game)—"What's the score?"

Joe Mac—"0-0."

Marian—"Good game."

A DISCUSSION OF RELIGION

Bernice S.—"Well, I'm a Methodist."

J. B.—"All Methodists are good looking."

Ralph F.—"I'm a Methodist."

* * *

Miss Terry—"You ought to have these answers on the tip of your tongue."

Thomas G.—"My tongue isn't that big."

Mary B.—"Did you enjoy the game?"

Fred B.—"I should say."

Mary Belle K.—"I didn't: didn't see a single person I know."

* * *

O shed a tear for Silly Sam;
There is no student duller.
He thinks when white and black men clash
You have a riot of color.

* * *

Speaking of appropriateness, we wonder if the change of the vowel in Mr. Hill's name would make his name more fitting. Perhaps, though, "Hill" means a hard climb.

* * *

Furthermore, we contend that a man's not a man till he's had R. O. T. C. training.

Of course we may be wrong, but it seems to us that Mr. Scarborough ought to quit going with high school girls. He ought to stay in his class.

* * *

Mr. White has been chapping out a great deal lately. Who is she, Mr. White?

Doris E. (at football game)—"Hold him, Brooks; I know you can."

Ada V.—"I don't tell everything I hear."

Boy Friend—"I know it; you haven't time."

* * *

Miss Agnew—"Do you understand the difference between liking and loving?"

Wray Hicks—"Yes, ma'am: I like my mother, but I love pie."

Wiley J.—"I just got a reminder of a former love affair."

Elliott K.—"What?"

Wiley J.—"My new girl gave me a copy of Dante's Inferno."

Nathan Cole
Got too bold
When Kitty made some candy.
He took a bite,
His teeth held tight—
Then wasn't he a dandy?

John C.—"Say, Ralph, your wrist watch is busted."

Ralph S.—"I know it, John. A gentleman can't get in a picture show without something like that happening."

Miss Meriwether—"What is the contribution of the Middle Ages to modern college life?"

Dick A.—"Chaperones."

Mary Belle Gillespie made a new acquaintance on the street car the other day.

Hard luck, boys. Mary Belle is dated up for the next three months. Ask Sam H.

"Dust to dust," said the darkey girl as she smeared her face with Clasmic Beauty Clay.

* * *

Here's the low down on the reason for Mr. White's resignation from 103. His landlady told us that at night he could be heard calling out different names and forever muttering something about 4:00 o'clock. (She threw him out).

* * *

George Butler is one of the rising young men. He has to get up every morning at 5:45.

* * *

Why teachers leave school—to get home in time for supper.

Our trusty sleuths have at last, at last, found out why.

Jimmie Hudson is tardy every morning —he has to get up and milk the cows, feed the turkeys, give the hogs their grub, bring in the kindling, and then run to school.

This troubles our mighty brow: What if Miss Terry should go to Greenwich Village where the artists hang out? They don't wear their collars buttoned up!

You know where Mr. Ford learned the Charleston? Ssh! Ask Miss Lottapaint at the Tanpages Theatre.

If anyone wishes to get that county jail atmosphere—sit on the mourner's bench in the office any day.

Dear Sir:

I tried three bottles of your Grow Fast Tonic and now I have all my hair—in a cigar box.

Yours truly,

Mr. Ford.

* * *

Our view of the height of ignorance is Fred Martin's usurping Lee Schrimpf's extra pair of balloon pants.

* * *

We wish that the P.-T. A. would give the football team more blankets. More young men could be slipped into the games then.

* * *

We've solved the problem as to where Coach Oehler gets his knowledge of talking and of coaching a football team: he used to drive mules for the City of Dallas.

* * *

To show you how much Frank Nigro loves his fair Hattie—why—when he hasn't a period in 103, he sits in the hall and awaits her release.

Nathan (at IV-A class meeting)—Nominations are now in order to adjourn.

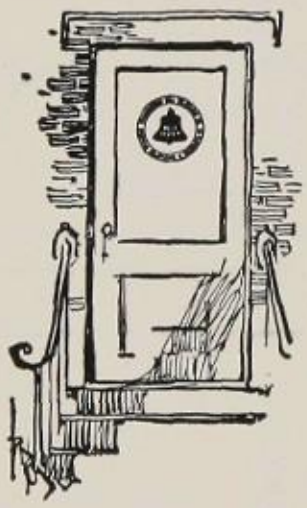
The Pass-word to a Mythical Treasure Cave



More valuable, more magical things you pass by without notice every day. You need no password to enter a much more wonderful and interesting place—the operating room of your own Telephone Office.

Ancient Romancers never conceived of anything half so marvelous as the telephone. They would have traveled leagues to see what is within a few blocks of your home. It is worth seeing.

When you have a spare half hour in the afternoon, stop in and let the Chief Operator show you about.

A Benevolent Use for Gun Barrels

GUN barrels made the first gas pipe that was ever laid. It was that resourceful Englishman William Murdock, who collected some of the discarded guns left over from European disturbances here and there, and screwed the barrels together to pipe his newly invented coal gas for house lighting.

Over 613 miles of gas mains, from 1¼ inches to 20 inches in diameter, keep the world's finest fuel on tap for 59,000 customers in Dallas and its suburbs.
